Platform

Unified Origin

The next step in learning video powered by multi platform streaming technology.

Live video streaming and video on demand of lectures, classes and events will increase student engagement and retention. The learning experience can be enhanced using multi platform streaming technology. Presentations 2Go and Unified Streaming created a comprehensive solution for recording and capturing of live events, management of content and metadata and multi platform streaming. Capable of streaming to any device, campus and worldwide.

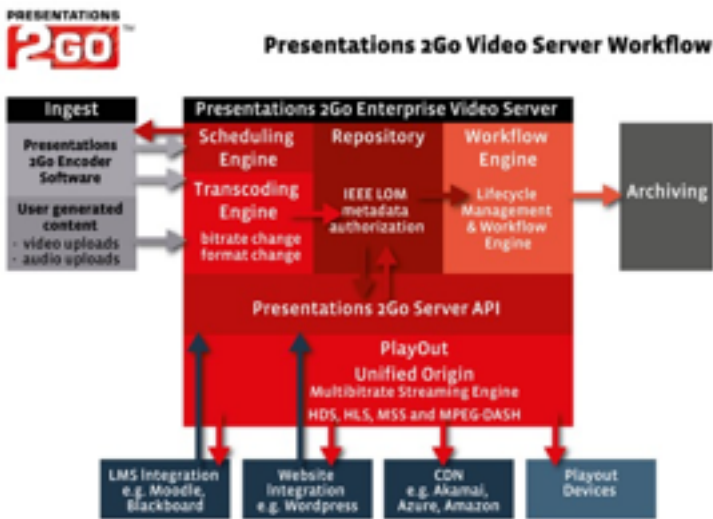

Presentations 2Go have successfully developed their rich media learning video platform with Unified Streaming in combination with the Akamai content delivery network. As used from September 2015 at Wageningen University in The Netherlands.

Benefits:

- ▶ Broad access for students
- ▶ Equal learning opportunities
- ▶ Best quality possible due to ABR*
- ▶ One source, every format, any screen
- ▶ Short time to market

Unified Streaming’s software provides advanced functionality to do on the fly packaging to all formats and platforms including DRM protection. In delivering users of PCs, smartphones or tablets the best possible viewing experience. Users of Presentations 2Go will benefit from USP's adaptive bitrate streaming-technology.* This means that video dynamically adapts to network conditions and video rendering performance. Therefore, viewers will experience no buffering or stuttering (when meeting the minimum bitrate/CPU requirements). And because it all happens on the fly, it eliminates massive storage needs and therefore cost efficient. Unified Streaming has proven itself to be a stable, scalable and high performance streaming solution.

As from September 2015 the University of Wageningen will offer two complete Master Programmes online and due to the collaboration with Unified Streaming lots of students all over the world are able to join these programmes.

Using multi platform streaming technology fin this setting is only the beginning. This is a stepping stone to greater things in the future.
